Sen. Kuipers to read to area pupils during Reading Month

LANSING – Sen. Wayne Kuipers, R-Holland, will continue his visits of area schools during March, reading to pupils during the national reading month.

“March is a month for promoting reading in young people, because it is one of the basics children need to succeed in life,” said Kuipers, who chairs the Senate Education Committee. “In my time in the Legislature, education has been a priority of mine.”

The senator will read at the following schools next week:

- 1:15 p.m., Monday, March 28 at Cummings Elementary School in Grandville Public Schools.
- 9 a.m., Tuesday, March 29 at Jefferson 2-3 Focus School in Holland Public Schools.
- 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, March 29 at Eagle Crest Charter Academy.
- 12:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 29 at Van Raalte 4-5 Focus School in Holland Public Schools.
- 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 29, Evergreen Elementary School in Allendale Public Schools.

Please call the senator’s office if a photographer would like to attend. The senator also plans to visit other schools in the district at future dates.
